

Constitutional and Human Rights Section Report 2018-2019

As has been the pattern for the past several years, the Section was pleased to co-organize a couple of different events over the course of the year. We have greatly enjoyed collaborating with other Sections in helping to organize events as our areas of law often over-lap. Moreover, this allows for greater interaction between different Sections of the MBA. This past year the Section was involved in a couple of different activities, as follows:

On March 4, 2019 there was a session entitled The Safe Third Country Agreement: From original purpose to present reality. This was presented by Dr. Shauna Labman, David Matas and Abdikheir Ahmend.

Following that, on April 23, 2019 there was a session entitled Private Enforcement of Police Powers & the Charter: Who is Responsible for Upholding Animal Protection Laws? This presentation was put on by Benjamin Oliphant, Arden Beddoes and Camille Labchuk.

We have both enjoyed our time as Co-Chairs this past and look forward to continuing in the role for 2019/2020.
