

CCCA Section Report 2015-2016

In the 2015/2016 year, the CCCA Section of the MBA offered many activities for its members. The Section offered a total of seven lunch time sessions, one dinner event, and sponsored one Mid-Winter Conference Session. The year kicked off with Taylor McCaffrey LLP hosting a lunch session on September 24, 2015 whereby they presented on "Self-Delusion: Misconceptions About Workplace Safety and Health Liability". On November 5th, Manitoba Hydro hosted the next lunch session whereby members were given a presentation on "Financial Literacy". Pitblado LLP hosted the next lunch session on December 9, 2015 and presented on "Ethical Challenges in Advising the Corporate Group". For the 2016 Mid-Winter Conference, the CCCA Section hosted the session on "Legal Service Delivery – A Makeover". Fillmore Riley LLP hosted the next lunch session on February 23, 2016 and presented on "Privacy Law: What You Don't Know Could Hurt You." At the Annual CCCA Section Dinner on March 16, 2016, the members were given a presentation titled "All You need to Know About Data in 2016: Big Data, Breaches, Hacks and How to Deal with Them When they Happen to You". On April 19, 2016, members participated in an interactive lunch session hosted by Cargill Limited whereby they separated into smaller groups to discuss ethical and practice-related issues relevant to in-house counsel. MTS hosted the next lunch session on May 17, 2016 and members were given a presentation on "US Import/Export Restrictions in Commercial Agreements". Finally, the last lunch session and event for the 2015/2016 year was hosted at Aikins Law and a presentation was given on the latest developments in Immigration Law.
